Supporting Safe Childbirth in Iroko Community with HelpMum Africa

We are proud to have facilitated the impactful work of HelpMum Africa in our community, contributing to the important goal of improving maternal and neonatal health outcomes.

In partnership with the Aspire Coronation Trust Foundation, the HelpMum team visited Iroko community in Akinyele Local Government, Oyo State, to distribute HelpMum clean birth kits to pregnant women in the community. These kits contain essential, hygienic items that are crucial for safe deliveries, helping to reduce the risk of infections during childbirth.

At Entojutu, we believe in the power of collaboration to bring about lasting change. This initiative is not just about distributing kits; it's about working together to support the women and families in Iroko, ensuring they have access to the resources they need for safe and healthy births.

By providing these kits, we are not only safeguarding the health of mothers and newborns, but also alleviating the financial burden of purchasing these essential items themselves. This is a step toward reducing healthcare disparities and promoting safer deliveries within underserved communities.

We are grateful to HelpMum Africa and Aspire Coronation Trust Foundation for their commitment to this cause, and we look forward to continuing this journey of creating healthier, more resilient communities together.

Entojutu's Commitment to Environmental Sanitation and Sustainability

At Entojutu, our dedication to sustainability goes beyond innovative agricultural practices—it extends to our active role in maintaining a clean and healthy environment. Every week, we collect organic waste from local markets around us, transforming what could be harmful waste into valuable resources for sustainable agriculture. This initiative not only supports environmental sanitation but also contributes to improving local weather conditions, reducing the negative impact of waste accumulation.

By incorporating organic waste into our operations, we align with our core mission and goals as an organization—promoting eco-friendly solutions that benefit both the environment and our community. The collected organic waste is processed and converted into Black Soldier Fly (BSF) larvae feed and nutrient-rich frass, which serves as a natural fertilizer. This process ensures that waste is recycled efficiently, driving our efforts toward a circular economy where waste is minimized, and valuable byproducts are used to boost food production.

This weekly activity is an integral part of Entojutu's ongoing commitment to sustainability. By managing waste responsibly, we not only contribute to the health of our local environment but also ensure that our farming practices remain aligned with our broader goal of sustainable agriculture. We believe that these efforts are crucial for fostering long-term food security, environmental resilience, and the overall well-being of our communities.

Dear friends and supporters,

We believe that real change can only happen through a concerted effort. Like the African proverb 'it takes a village to raise a child'. We believe only through collaboration between partners can we build prosperous, climate resilient and environmentally friendly farming communities in Nigeria for a sustainable future.

We would like to express our sincere gratitude for any support that helps us to continue our work.
